King and Queen of Servia Knew They Millionaire's Son of Hastings Were to Be Slain, and Alexander Took Precautions to Prevent Surprise at Night in the Palace.

Draft Found in the Palace with Marginal Notes Written by the King Providing for the Proclamation of Draga's Brother as Heir to the Throne.

VIENNA, June 13.—It is now known here that the late King Alexander lived in a state of terror during the last weeks of his life. Nightly soldiers belonging to the Pioneers' Division searched the palace from roof to cellar, peering into all dark corners, for bombs. Each night the King was securely locked in his bedchamber by the adjutant, in the presence of the palace commander.

It is also stated that for several weeks the late Queen Draga had prepared for flight, independent of the King, who is supposed to have been 3. Time-1.13 1-5. gradually growing reconciled to the project of his divorce from Draga and his marriage with Princess Xenia of Montenegro. The conspirators are reported to have learned this, and, fearing that this marriage would Merry Acrobat 3. Lately King Alexander vainly tried to become reconciled with exiled Sweet Tone third. Time-1.10 1-5. Servians, which also increased the anxiety of the conspirators.

SISTERS SAW DRAGA'S BODY.

Queen Draga's sisters were permitted to take : last look at the body of the late Oueen. They say the corpse was shrouded in white silk. The youngest of Draga's sisters was carried away unconscious.

In the late King's desk there was found, in addition to various interesting private papers, about $ 0,000.

A despatch from Belgrade says the draft of a bill, with marginal notes written by the late King Alexander, has been found in the palace, stone, was second choice. Magistrate It provided for the proclamation of Queen Draga's brother as heir to this gave him an advantage. He made the throne. This is held by the conspirators to be complete justification all the running, and at the end was going easily. Gettysburg, a 30-to-1 for their action.

ROME, June 13.—A semi-official note published here declares that whoever is made King of Servia the Powers will exact the punishment of the murderers of King Alexander and Queen Draga, as civilized Europe cannot tolerate that high administrative and military positions in any country should be occupied by assassins.

RUSSIA EXPRESSES EMOTION.

ST. PETERSBURG. June 13.-An official note giving the views of the Government follows:

"The tragic events at Belgrade have occasioned profound emotion in Russia, where there is the keenest interest in everything affecting the destinies of the Servian people. All the blood that has been shed can only awaken in Russia a feeling of compassion, which in the present instance is increased by the fact that the King and Queer of a friendly State have fallen victims of a violent death and that the Obrenovitch dynasty, so closely bound up in the history of Servia, is now extinct.

The most fervent desire prevails in Russia that Scrvia, after this fearful crisis, may be able to pursue peacefully the course of her national life in the direction which the patriotism of the Servian people and a proper conception of their supreme interests will indicate."

SULTAN IS BADLY SCARED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—The terrible tragedy at Belgrade has caused stupefaction at the Yildiz Palace. The Sultan is so affected that he is unable to listen to the details published in the newspapers and only allows those who converse with him to speak of the "death" of the long enough to beat Ingold three-quarters of a length for the place. HEADED OFF QUEEN'S BROTHER.

BELGRADE, June 13.-Minister of Commerce Geneschics announced to-day that the coup d'etat was fixed for June 11, because King Alexander had promised Queen Draga that on that day her wish to have her brother Nikodem proclaimed heir to the throne would be fulfilled.

The election of a ruler, M. Geneschics declared, could hardly occur be fore Tuesday. The selection of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch was certain. M. Geneschics said if there was any republican tendency in the Cabinet it was slight. The Minister was reticent as to events at the Palace Thursday morning. He did not consider it expedient to publish an official account of what had happened until matters had settled down.

Former Minister of Police Todorovics died to-day from the wounds mosived at the hands of the soldiers Thursday morning.

> TINNA, June 13-7 P. M .- The newspapers here are issuing extra evening editions announcing the death of Pope Lee XIII. at Rome from heart failure this afternoon.

The report has not been confirmed from Rome.

The condition of the health of the Pontiff has been very precarious for the last few weeks. There have been several reports of his death.

Though he is very feeble, it is not believed that he will die so suddenly as these reports invariably describe. His physicians have said repeatedly that his life will gradually flicker away.

An Evening World reporter called at the residence of Archbishop Farley this afternoon. His secretary, Father Lavelle, saids

"This is the first we have heard of the rumor. On Tuesday, last we heard from a fairly reliable authority that the Holy Father was dead. Later we heard it was untrue."
